Reviewer A:

Brief summary and further comments for the author(s). Please justify your recommendation and suggest improvements in technical content or presentation:
        1. Abstract should highlight the findings and significance.
2. 24 References are too few to substantiate the literature review in the field of focus.
3. The 'trigger factors' and ; 'constraints' identified need to be further analysed e.g. compare and contrast in its context, rather than just taken directly from the article.
4. The review done by the author is lacking in terms of critically synthesizing the research literature, rather than 1st level of 'summarising'.
5. Need to justify and substantiate the theoretical significance and practical significance.

Reviewer B:

Brief summary and further comments for the author(s). Please justify your

presentation:
    Abstract should be written shortly (objective, method and result)

Reviewer C:

Brief summary and further comments for the author(s). Please justify your recommendation and suggest improvements in technical content or
presentation:
    Abstract and keywords:
1.   Please state the keywords and the database for searching literatures.
2.   Please mention the triggering factors and constraints on the e-supply chain processes.
3.   Please remove this section because it is not important to describe the supply chain process in the abstract.
Ex: "The supply chain process is an activity stage that starts from (i) the customer, (ii) the planning part, (iii) the purchasing department, (iv)
the inventory section, (v) the production section, and (vi) the transport section. e-Supply Chain processes is a supply chain process by adding the role of information technology and electronic networks to run it. The customer sends the order to the company and after going through a series of processes (ii) through (vi), the customer will get the order. All the parties involved in the chain of e-supply chain processes are hoping the process can run smoothly and efficiently. But it is not uncommon to find obstacles, which causes customers not satisfied."
4.   Please avoid the use of abbreviation in the keywords.
Ex: SLR; PRISMA.
Introduction:
5.   Paragraph 1 is too long, please write it in 2 paragraphs.
6.   The introduction doesn't mention specifically the research object, please specify the industry and origin for identifying the triggering factors and constraints. It is very important to elaborate the phenomena in a specific industry in a country to support the research topic. The diversity of the literature doesn't reflect the research topic and object.
7.   Please identify the research gap based on the literature review on the triggering factors and constraints on e-supply chain process. It is important to justify the importance of this literature review.
Methods:
8.   The methods already well-presented.
Results and Discussions:
9.   The authors should avoid presenting the raw data in the article, the reader need an insight from the author analysis. Please analyze the data in table 2 and table 3. In table 2, the reader will get more insight if the author pivot the data from journal type and years. It will answer the recent trend of e-supply chain process research. In table 3, the reader will get more insight if the author present the industry or research location and pivot the table.
10.   The triggering factors and constraints identification is already well-presented.
11.   The authors need to present the proposed research design.
Conclusions:
12.   The conclusions already well-presented.
References:
13.   The references already well-presented.
